PRODUCTION PROCESS

Precision in Every Stage. Perfection in Every Product.

At Koeta, we believe excellence begins at the source. Each product is made through a carefully managed, multi-stage process where technology, craftsmanship, and quality control come together seamlessly. From raw material to refined finish, our production lines ensure every faucet and sanitary fixture lives up to the standards of modern luxury. Every faucet is built with meticulous care, combining strength, functionality, and visual appeal. Our process ensures long-lasting performance and stunning surface finishes.

Core Making & Casting

High-quality brass is melted and poured into precision-designed molds, forming the core shape of each faucet. This stage defines the structural integrity that supports long-term performance.

Electroplating

Faucets receive a protective 3-layer coating of copper, nickel, and chrome for long-lasting brilliance. This process enhances visual appeal while protecting against corrosion and daily wear.

Machining

CNC machinery refines the shape, creating exact threads and fitting surfaces for perfect assembly. Accuracy here ensures zero leakage and smooth user experience.

Buffing

Each faucet undergoes multi-step buffing to achieve a smooth, scratch-free surface ready for finishing. This polishing stage creates the base for that flawless mirror-like chrome shine.

Maintenance Guidelines...

Regularly clean the faucet with mild soap and warm water, and dry it with a soft cloth to prevent water spots and mineral buildup. For limescale, use a vinegar solution. Periodically, clean the aerator by soaking it in vinegar to dissolve deposits, and replace it if necessary.

Inspect the faucet for leaks and replace worn-out O-rings or gaskets if needed. Ensure handles are tight and lubricate them occasionally with plumber's grease. If the faucet drips or has irregular flow, clean or replace the valve or cartridge.

Avoid exposing the faucet to harsh chemicals and extreme temperatures. Consider annual professional inspections and consult a plumber for complex issues. Operate handles gently and use the faucet as intended, avoiding hanging heavy objects on it.
